

Computer Skills Training in or near Arlington, Virginia

Updated June 8, 2022

Most of these courses are taught in English. It is recommended to have an intermediate-advanced level of English (REEP levels 400-650)

Arlington Education and Employment Program (REEP)

<https://reep.apsva.us/>

REEP offers English and Workplace Computer Skills, an in-person class that combines workplace English, soft skills, Microsoft Word, and job coaching. Students also prepare for the Microsoft Office Specialist certification exam in Word. Check REEP for dates and times.

Arlington Community Learning

<https://www.apsva.us/arlington-community-learning/>

Search their catalogue for a variety of training on computer skills, software, web tools, and more. Some certifications offered.

Skill-Up - online training resource through Alex/Arl County's

<http://alexandriarlington.skillupamerica.org/>

LinkedIn Learning

<https://library.arlingtonva.libguides.com/aboutlinkedin>

Access through the Arlington Public Library website. Library account and login required.

Computer CORE

<https://www.computercore.org/>

An intensive, cohort-style program in Virginia with courses in basic computer skills. Prepares adults to realize career aspirations with foundational digital and professional skills.

Byte Back

<https://byteback.org/>

An intensive program in Washington, DC and Baltimore, MD with courses in basic computer skills, Information Technology (IT), and Administration Professionals. Job placement assistance provided.